Market Commentary

Generali Equity Ultima recorded a performance of -0.03% in January 2024. The JCI recorded a performance of -0.89% in January 2024, falling slightly from around 7270 to 7210. The JCI was quite volatile this month and the sideways movement could have been attributed to the following. Firstly, the USD strengthened against IDR (IDR/USD 15,775 in Jan 2024 vs 15,390 in Dec 2023). Secondly, the geopolitical risks from the conflicts in the Middle East and its surrounding seas might have disrupted Indonesia's export-oriented economy. Thirdly, there was downward pressure on oil prices due to lower import demand from China. Lastly, the market participants might have been preoccupied with the presidential election, which created uncertainty in the domestic markets and reduced investor confidence. Regardless, Indonesia's fundamentals remain supporting its growing economy, with its stable inflation rate (2.57% in Jan 2024 vs 2.61% in Dec 2023) and high manufacturing PMI (52.9 in Jan 2024 vs 52.2 in Dec 2023). The following large-cap stocks represented the stock market movement in January (e.g., BBCA +1.60%, BBRI -0.44%, BREN -33.78%, BYAN -1.01%, BMRI +9.92%, AMMN +14.89%, TPIA +2.86, TLKM +0.25%, BBNI +6.98%, ASII -9.29%).
