Market Commentary

DPLK Generali Equity Bravo recorded a performance of +3.65% in July 2025. The JCI recorded a gain of 8.04% in July 2025, climbing from the 6,900 level to the 7,500 level. Both domestic enthusiasm and global developments fueled an extremely bullish market. Firstly, Bank Indonesia's 25 bps rate cut had supported economic growth and boosted investor confidence. Secondly, Indonesia and the EU had finalized a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (RI-EU CEPA), providing tariff-free access for 80% of Indonesian exports, while a US-tariff deal reduced import duties from 32% to 19%, enhancing competitiveness on both fronts. Lastly, the Indonesian government's stimulus disbursements in July totaled approximately IDR 24 trillion, further boosting household purchasing power. Meanwhile, the technology, energy, and infrastructure sectors supported the stock market in July amidst the lagging banking sector, bolstered by stable share performance among major conglomerates. Regardless, the Indonesian economy and its fundamentals remained strong, such as a foreign exchange reserve surplus (USD 152 billion in Jul25), a still-within-target-range inflation rate (2.37% in Jul25), and a rising GDP growth rate (5.12% YoY in 2Q25 vs 4.87% in 1Q25). Nonetheless, the following large-cap stocks drove the stock market movement this month (e.g., BREN +33.19%, BRPT +58.43%, PANI +46.02%, DSSA +20.95%, CUAN +21.83%, ASII +13.33%, BBHI +66.24%, BNLI +15.47%, IMPC +64.90%, SRAJ +27.64%).

Market Commentary

DPLK Generali Fixed Income Bravo recorded performance of +0.79% in July 2025. In July 2025, the 5-year Indonesian government bond yield decreased from 6.297% to 6.140%, while the 10-year yield fell from 6.622% to 6.546%. The Indonesian bond market was quite bullish this month, as reflected in the strengthening of the ICBI index by 1.18% MTD and the falling of yields signaling an increase in demand for government securities. In addition, Geopolitical de-escalation in the Middle East, improved global risk appetite, and the jumbo liquidity in the Indonesian bond market (from bonds and SRBI maturities) had attracted foreign investment back into emerging market bonds like Indonesia (net buy of IDR 42.27 trillion YTD). Meanwhile, the US Federal Reserve (FED) held interest rates at the 4.25% to 4.5% range in July to preserve the inflation rate at manageable levels. However, BI-rate had been lowered 25 bps to 5.25% to reduce inflation to a target range of around 2.5%, preserve rupiah exchange rate stability in line with economic fundamentals, and boost economic growth.

Market Commentary

DPLK Generali Money Market Bravo recorded performance of +0.43% in July 2025. The Bank Indonesia Board of Governors decided on 15-16th July 2025 to lower the BI-Rate by 25 bps to 5.25%, while also lowering the Deposit Facility (DF) rate by 25 bps to 4.50% and the Lending Facility (LF) rate by 25 bps to 6.00%. The decision is consistent with decreasing projection of inflation in 2025 and 2026 within the 2.5±1% target corridor, maintained rupiah exchange rate stability in line with economic fundamentals and the need to drive economic growth. Moving forward, Bank Indonesia will continue considering further room for interest rate reduction to nurture economic growth, while maintaining rupiah exchange rate stability and orienting monetary policy towards managing inflation within the target corridor based on global and domestic economic dynamics. Meanwhile, Bank Indonesia continues optimising accommodative macroprudential policy, using various strategies to increase credit/financing, lower interest rates and enhance liquidity management flexibility in the banking industry in pursuit of sustainable economic growth.
