Market Commentary

Generali Fixed Income Syariah recorded a performance of -0.79% in September 2026. Indonesia's bond market weakened in September 2026 as renewed global interest rate pressures weighed on fixed income sentiment. Bank Indonesia maintained the BI-Rate at 5.75%, while the Fed's rate hike drove higher US Treasury yields and increased volatility across regional bond markets. Indonesia's 10-year government bond yield rose to 7.11% from 6.99% in August, contributing to a 0.25% monthly decline in the ICBI. Foreign investors recorded Rp0.34 trillion of net selling in the government bond market, reversing the strong inflows seen in the previous month. Meanwhile, SRBI experienced Rp13.1 trillion in outflows, reflecting tighter liquidity conditions despite resilient domestic fiscal and macroeconomic fundamentals.
